Let's Start!

I want to look around the convention! Where should we go?

Learning Outcome

Accurately explain information about interests, hobbies and preferences in communicative situations.

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about hobbies and interests.
- I can talk about problems and solutions.
- I can make suggestions.

Ask your partner:

- What do you like to do on the weekend?
- What do you like to do in the city?

Let's Explore!

Sally and Peter are at Comic-Con. What is the problem?

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Sally: Thanks for helping me to set up the stand, Peter.
Peter: No problem! Thanks for getting the discount ticket!
Sally: I want to look around, but I can't take a break until lunch.
Peter: I have a suggestion.
Sally: Oh, what's that?
Peter: I could help you, and then we could look around together.
Sally: That would be great. Thanks.
Peter: No problem.
Sally: We're like superheroes. I'm Batman, and you're my sidekick, Robin!
Peter: Ha! There are so many interesting exhibits here. The vendors are really fun too.
Sally: I know! I want to be free!
Peter: Soon ... it's almost lunch time.
Sally: I'm getting hungry too. Hey, what are you eating? Chocolate?
Peter: Uh ... yeah. Do you want some?
Sally: Yes, please!

Learning Points

Talking About Problems and Solutions

When you talk about problems at work, you can use the Simple Present tense or modals for suggestion. For example:

We have a small problem.
There is a misunderstanding.
We have an issue.
Can we discuss this?
What do you think?

You can use these phrases to suggest solutions:

I have an idea.
I have a suggestion.
We could ...
Why don't you ...
You should ...

To start	To Reply
We have a small problem.	Oh, what is it?
There is a misunderstanding.	Oh, what's that?
We have an issue.	What's the issue?
Can we discuss this?	Of course.
What do you think?	Let's talk about it.

Examples:

- Anne: We have a small problem.
- Carol: We could talk to Mark about it.
